The processional will start promptly at 10:00 a.m. and will be led by Athens-Clarke County Sheriff Ira Edwards.

Accepting Your Diploma Tube

After the speeches, the presentation of the LL.M. candidates and the conferring of degrees to the J.D. candidates, each graduate will walk across the graduation stage to accept a diploma tube as one of the Honorary Marshals reads their name aloud. The GradImages Photography Co. has been engaged to take individual photos as you cross the graduation stage and accept your diploma tube. Family members and friends are welcome to take their own photos of this particular moment. Space is limited in front of the stage so we ask that individual photographers only stay at the front to snap photos of their graduate and then leave the area so others may come forward.

Diploma

The diploma tube you receive on Saturday does NOT contain your diploma. Diplomas will be mailed to graduates once all grades are in and honors have been determined (e.g., cum laude, magna cum laude, etc.)

Generally, diplomas are mailed in late June. For framing purposes, the size of the diploma you will receive is 12" x 15".

Length of Commencement Ceremony

The ceremony can last anywhere from 75 minutes upwards to 90 minutes. Water stations are placed strategically thru the crowd and 2,500 folding chairs are set for guests. Additionally, there is plenty of standing room on North Campus, and the law school building will be open in the event a guest needs to go inside for awhile.

Rain Location

In the event of inclement weather, a change of venue announcement will be made at the entrance to the Law Library at 9:00 a.m. on Sat., May 16 or, if possible, an e-mail will be sent out earlier to the law school's official email listserv lists (i.e., lawstu15@listserv.uga.edu and lawllm@listserv.uga.edu)
(The rain location for graduation is Stegeman Coliseum located on South Campus.

For those who cannot tolerate heat, there will be a live feed in Classroom F at the law school. Also, after graduation weekend, the ceremony can be viewed on the Law School's website at <http://www.law.uga.edu/multimedia-gallery-recent-events>
